

MIT Club of the Delaware Valley

Enjoy
The Brandywiners
at the
Longwood Gardens
Open-Air Theater
Saturday, July 28, 2007

Join your MIT friends at one of the area's premier summer events, The Brandywiners' annual production at Longwood Gardens. This year they are performing Cole Porter's popular ANYTHING GOES. The Club has its own permanent block of seats (we chose the best in the house!). They will sell out quickly so send your reservation soon! Your tickets will be mailed in late July.

As a bonus, your ticket also gives you a full day admission to Longwood Gardens on Saturday (itself a $16 value).

We will have separate reserved dinner seating at the Longwood Gardens Terrace Restaurant. If you would like to have dinner with other MIT alums please meet outside the restaurant at 5:00 sharp and we will be directed to a reserved area (outside if the weather is good) for a pay-on-your-own dinner (restaurant, not cafeteria). We will meet in the large walkway at the base of the stairway leading up to the restaurant. This will give people time for a leisurely stroll about the gardens after dinner when the evening is cooler. This dinner is optional; please indicate your intent on the form below.

On July 28: Dinner: 5:00 p.m. ANYTHING GOES: 8:30 p.m.

Please see the other side of this announcement for important information on the schedule in the event of rain.

Please mail your reservation, to be received by July 14 (earlier, to be assured a seat), to:
John Wilkens, 138 Round Hill Road, Kennett Square, PA 19348-2608.

Alternatively register on line via www.MITDV.org/events/.

If you have questions, please call John Wilkens at 610-444-3242 (evenings), or 302-695-3143 (days).

The Brandywiners' ticket policy in the event of rain is given below. More information may be found at www.brandywiners.org.

Your ticket will let you into the gardens all day Saturday (there is an indoor conservatory).

If you enter on Saturday, save your ticket stub – it is your admission to the gardens for the play on the rain date!

Questions and Answers on Performance Cancellations and Ticket Refunds

Under what conditions do you cancel a performance?

We cancel performances based only on the weather at Longwood Gardens or safety concerns there. Because the weather is bad where you are or because you have heard an unfavorable forecast, do not assume that a performance has been cancelled!

When do you decide to cancel a performance?

We make every effort to put on the show as scheduled and we rarely cancel performances before our curtain time of 8:30 pm. If you feel a performance may be cancelled listen to radio stations WDEL (1150 AM), WILM (1450 AM), WJBR (1290 AM and 99.5 FM), WNRK (1260 AM), or WPEN (950 AM) or call our Ticket Office at 302 478-3355. Do not call Longwood.

What happens if you cancel a performance after the show begins?

If we cancel a performance before intermission we will reschedule it for the next available rain date. If we cancel a performance during or after intermission we will consider it a complete performance; we will not reschedule the performance even if rain dates are available and we will not offer refunds.

How do you determine the "next available rain date"?

We reserve as rain dates the Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday following the regular performances. If we cancel only one regular performance, its rain date would be Monday; if we cancel another, its rain date would be Tuesday, and so on. For example, if we complete the Thursday performance but cancel the Friday and Saturday performances, we would reschedule the Friday performance for Monday and the Saturday performance for Tuesday.

What happens if a rain-date performance is cancelled?

We would reschedule it for the next available rain date. If, for instance, in the example above we had to cancel the Monday rain-date performance, we would reschedule it for Wednesday.

What can I do if I cannot attend a rain-date performance?

We will exchange your tickets for another performance on a stand-by basis if seats are available; call our Ticket Office to verify availability of seats. If you are unable to use or exchange your tickets, you may want to consult with your tax preparer about the possibility of declaring the full ticket price as a charitable deduction; we are recognized by the IRS as a 501(c)(3) corporation.

What happens if a rain-date performance is cancelled before intermission and no more rain dates are available?

This is the only condition under which we offer refunds. You must request a refund within 30 days of the cancellation by returning your tickets along with a self-addressed, stamped envelope to The Brandywiners, Ltd., P.O. Box 248, Montchanin, DE 19710.
